LEADERS OF EDUCATION IN NEW MEXICO TO JOIN IN DEDICATION OF NEW HIGH SCHOOL TONIGHT

EDUCATORS GATHERING FROM ALL PARTS OF STATE

Council in All Day Session of Practical Work Discusses New Mexico's Vital Educational Needs.

RESOLUTIONS OF IMPORTANCE ADOPTED

Dedication Exercises in New High School Building Tonight Likely to Be Attended by Record Breaking Crowd.

Although the convention, proposed by the New Mexico educational association, does not meet until Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, when the first general session will begin, hundreds of teachers from parts of the state, including almost all the heads of the various state institutions and high schools, had reached Albuquerque today.

The session of the educational council this morning was the most largely attended in the history of that branch of the organization, all but one or two of the members being present when the session was called to order this morning by chairman Frank H. Roberts of Las Vegas.

The council's discussions today were on subjects of practical school work and its resolutions are of first importance, as indicating the sentiment of the leaders in education in the state, as to New Mexico's educational needs.

Tonight comes the formal dedication of Albuquerque's new high school building, in which the sessions of the teachers' convention are being held. The dedicatory address will be delivered by Judge Richard B. Hanna of Santa Fe, associate justice of the state supreme court, and the exercises will be attended by the leaders of education from all parts of the state. The public is welcome to these exercises, which begin at 8 o'clock.

Tomorrow's event of chief interest, aside from special services in all the churches, will be the vesper services at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, in the high school auditorium, at which Bishop Frederick B. Howden will preach the sermon.

Section meetings will be held Monday morning and the first session of the whole convention will take place Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock when in addition to the program, as given in today's Herald, nominations will be made for officers and for the next place of meeting.

Bulleting on officers and next meeting place will continue through the three days, ending Wednesday at noon.

Although large numbers of rooms have been listed with the Commercial club, for use of teachers, others were still being sought and listed today in order that there might be no possibility of a shortage of accommodations.

Even should the attendance go to 2,000 as now seems possible, there will be accommodations for all.

CHARTER OF LAS VEGAS CHAIRMAN OF COUNCIL

The educational council, in session today, is the advisory board of the educational association and is made up of representatives from each of the judicial districts of the state, the department of education heads of the state institutions and one member from each of the association's sections.

The meeting was called to order this morning by Dr. Frank H. H. Roberts, president of the Las Vegas Normal University, who has been the council chairman during the past year. Dr. Roberts is one of the men prominently mentioned for next president of the association. The roll call of the council, by Secretary Robert F. Astbury, chief clerk of the department of education, showed all but two or three members present, the most satisfactory attendance on record.

Chairman Roberts at once called for the election of officers for the ensuing year, resulting in the election of Frank Chapman, head of the Las Vegas Normal, as chairman and Miss Mamie A. Myers, of the department of education, as secretary.

The first address was by assistant superintendent of public instruction, P. J. Babbitt, Las Vegas, as leader of discussion of the subject, "Teaching of Spanish in the public schools" and which prompted a lively discussion of the question.

The chairman's armed address was next in order and was heard with lively interest.

TWO FUNDAMENTAL ERRORS IN STATE'S EDUCATIONAL SYSTEM

In Roberts said:

The educational system of New Mexico is suffering from two fundamental errors. The school men are responsible for one, the other is forced upon us. I know it is hard in all our pedagogical experiences more persistent than the tendency in the schools may be to persist from one master class. He thinks one thing that works well with one student, and then says, "This is a good thing for all students." A professor in the agricultural college of Colorado told some who had graduated school interested in plant breeding immediately, he said, "Since this is value to some of our students, it is surely of value to every student, my girl and I am going to the State Teachers' association, to tell them who should be taught to every boy and girl in Colorado." It seems to me we should no better pedagogical judgment than the one which we see in the case that is particularly adapted to the schools of the Pecos valley as, therefore, adopted in such schools throughout the state of New Mexico. Likewise in the same way, we have said that the schools of New Mexico, regardless of race or previous attainment of pupils must teach all students in the same way and on the same strength of time.

The state should be divided into at least three districts. One one district I would place all those schools where English is the only language of the children. In another district I would place those children whose only common language is Spanish. In the Spanish zone, the state should second those schools where both English and Spanish are the language of the people. I consider that in both cases the lines can be drawn, but these decisions can be approximated. Each section should have the 5000 negroes from the first course of study, and reinforce them to meet its peculiar needs.

HARVARD-36 YALE-0 TELLS THE WHOLE STORY

Great Crimson Team Proves Itself Master at Every Form of Play from Start to Finish.

ELEVEN RUSHES MAKE FIRST HARVARD SCORE

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 21.—Harvard scored her greatest triumph of more than a quarter of a century over Yale in the new Blue "bowl" today. Five touchdowns brought the points to 36 to 0 in favor of the crimson. The Harvard offense drove Yale back for many yards, while the dreaded Yale lateral pass was unable to bring a blue score. Twice Yale stood almost under the Harvard goal post but could not produce a score.

The strength of the Harvard defense was one of the most remarkable shown by a crimson team in many years. The chief of the sensations was the appearance of Captain Phillips in the fourth period. Phillips scored in the scoring by kicking a goal. The usual demonstration followed the end of the game and it was singular that the three best football players of Harvard, Princeton and Yale should have received their ovations from the spectators.

The situation created about by the act of the Turkish forces at Samsun in killing a family of the American cruiser Tennessee apparently did not detract from the enthusiasm with which it is felt now decide the entire campaign. In Berlin it is said officially that great expectations are entertained of a decisive defeat of the Greeks. The conflict spreads over many battlefields, from the farther end of Gallipoli almost to the Baltic, but the most important fighting is now in Asia.

The German military authorities state that their advances at Lodz have made progress and in the region of Plock the enemy is still in flight. Semi-official reports from Petrograd however, state that the Germans are being opposed successfully. The new attempt to play on Warsaw is to add fuel with heavy losses for the Central allies.
